“EXPO CHICAGO has always served as a convener of the global art world, offering a platform to engage with the pressing issues of our time, and this year is no different,” said Tony Karman, President | Director of EXPO CHICAGO. “At a time when the interplay between art and activism has renewed urgency, Alternate Assembly is a call to reflection, exploration, and action. Through meaningful conversation and creative expression, EXPO CHICAGO brings together a community of artists, scholars, and curators to address environmental impact and the role that art can—indeed, must—play in illuminating the challenges we face as individuals and societies.”

EXPO CHICAGO has partnered with Malmö Art Museum to present Sustainable Societies for the Future, an exhibition addressing the climate crisis, sustainability, and environmental impact opening at Malmö Art Museum at the end of this month. Featuring new works by Chicago and Detroit-based artists including Floating Museum, Max Guy, Cheryl Pope (moniquemeloche), Sean Rasset (Jessica Silverman Gallery), Michael x. Ryan, and Amanda Williams (Rhona Hoffman Gallery), the exhibition is a result of the Curatorial Exchange between EXPO CHICAGO and Denmark. The global project fosters international opportunities for the local art scene in Chicago and the greater Midwest, and provided the thematic framework for Alternate Assembly. A parallel one-day seminar titled Museums as Catalysts for Change, organized by Malmö Art Museum, will occur during the symposium on January 22, and an accompanying publication, produced in partnership with THE SEEN and Motto Books, will be available in the coming weeks. The exhibition is supported by Danish Arts in Chicago and the Consulate General of Denmark in New York.

“Alternate Assembly unites EXPO CHICAGO’s network of cultural leaders across three days of discourse and exploration to engage with issues that have enormous implications today and into the future,” said Stephanie Cristello, Editor-in-Chief of THE SEEN and Artistic Advisor to EXPO CHICAGO. “From the role cultural institutions play in spearheading climate education to the methods artists and activists are taking on the ground to champion environmental awareness around the world, Alternate Assembly explores the many forms of environmental impact, and in doing so, helps cultivate pathways for meaningful change.”

The Online Dispatch will be presented daily to relay the event schedule as well as offer a selection of readings curated by THE SEEN, Chicago’s International Journal of Contemporary & Modern Art, providing essential context to the panels and discussions within the program. About Independent Curators International Independent Curators International (ICI) supports the work of curators to help create stronger art communities through experimentation, collaboration, and international engagement. Curators are arts community leaders and organizers who champion artistic practice; build essential infrastructures and institutions; and generate public engagement with art. Our collaborative programs connect curators across generations, and across social, political and cultural borders. They form an international framework for sharing knowledge and resources — promoting cultural exchange, access to art, and public awareness for the curator’s role.
